Dena,

Our goal with Roachclip.com's Emporium is to help our favorite artisans succeed by connecting their talent with the people who appreciate it the most: festival-goers.

As such, we have collected a variety of mostly hand-made clothing & accessories from our favorite crafters, whom we have met over many years of attending festivals. We've built an online store and are now taking our collection on the road!

We've teamed up with such talent as the people behind Glowfur.com, FoxyMonster.com, RocknSocks.com, coppersmithdesign.com etc. to create an inspired collection of festival gear. We'll also be premiering our first "Powered by Granny" products called "Fuzzy Ears", which were hand-knitted by ladies in our hometown of Susanville, CA near Reno. In summary, we have a wide variety of festival gear ranging from less to more expensive, all high in quality.

Thank you for your consideration, whether or not we arrive as vendors or participants, we're excited to enjoy all the work you guys have put into this event!
